

Charlie Bear

May 1, 2010 - May 30, 2025

Charlie, approximately 15 years young, crossed rainbow bridge, 5/30/2025, in her loving arms of her momma and aunt, and felt no pain.

The day Miss Charlie Bear came home is a day I'll never forget. I needed a fur baby more than anything, a companion, a best friend, I was in a dark place then. I went to petco, saw her sitting in a water bowl and knew she's the one for me. She loved to GO, go on walks, go to petco and petsmart in her prime. She had happy tail, but before she had her tailed docked, we would use colorful duck tape at the end of her poor tail. She wasn't a fan. She wasn't a fan of getting her nails painted or perfume either. She'd get so mad at us and her hair stood from tail to neck. All bark no bite. She always knew when it was close to 5, the time I was getting off work because she would sit by the door and wait for me. She knew when it was 6 in the morning because she'd get some ham.

7 years ago she got a human brother she didn't know about at first, but was so protective of him. She waited for his arrival by sleeping in his room. The older her human got, the more she got annoyed with the boy (as I would too) haha! Then 2.5 years ago she got another human, but a girl. Charlie's motherly instincts came out more and more. Not a day went by the kids didn't play with sweet Charlie Bear, Charlie Baby, Char Dog, the list goes on. Like I told them, this isn't goodbye, this is I'll see you later.

I'll miss you being my shadow, my therapist, vacuum, most of all I'll miss YOU! But I'll see you on the other side. I'll always love you Charlie and you'll forever be in our hearts.

I'll Remember You This Way

Your joints are now steady and supple,<sup>[L][SEP]</sup> And your tongue stays in your mouth.<sup>[L][SEP]</sup> Your eyes hold a mischievous spark,<sup>[L][SEP]</sup> Your coat is shiny and soft throughout.

Though you became weak toward the end,<sup>[L][SEP]</sup> I'll always remember you at your strongest.<sup>[L][SEP]</sup> My best friend.
